

Devapur Plant Medical Facility

The Orient Cement Ltd. plant's medical facilities, established in 1980, serve as a critical component in maintaining the health and well-being of both employees and the surrounding community. Spanning an area of 400 square yards, this Occupational Health Centre (OHC) is designed to address the immediate and routine health needs of its users.

The Devapur OHC operates with a team of four MBBS doctors, comprising three male and one female. The team is headed by the Chief Medical officer Mr. Naveen who is also having an AFIH certification.

(Associate Fellow of Industrial Health) Supported by a dedicated staff of five nurses, one paramedics and six supporting staff. The facility is well-equipped to manage various health scenarios. Although the center does not offer pathological, X-ray, or dental services, it is equipped to handle a range of emergency situations.

Emergency and Treatment Capabilities:

The OHC provides essential emergency care, including ECG, oxygen support, minor injury treatment, suturing, and dressing. It is also equipped with a 24/7 ambulance service, featuring one Advanced Life Support (ALS) unit and one Basic Life Support (BLS) unit. In-house accommodations include six beds for day care and one bed for emergency cases.

Medicines distributed at the facility include both generic and branded options for free of cost. While there is no blood bank on site, the center is well-prepared to manage most routine and emergency medical needs.

Outpatient Services:

The OHC handles an average of 4,579 patients per month in its outpatient department (OPD). This includes 2,747 male patients and 1,832 female patients. The total number of patients treated annually through the OPD is approximately 54,000 encompassing both employees and community members.

Community Engagement

Medical Camps: The facility actively organizes community medical camps as part of its ongoing commitment to public health. Each year, several of these camps are held, providing essential medical services to a broad range of individuals. These initiatives have successfully reached and treated numerous people, demonstrating the facility's dedication to extending healthcare services

The Devapur Plant Medical Facilities play a vital role in safeguarding the health of its employees and the local community. With a focus on emergency care, basic medical treatment, and community outreach, the OHC ensures comprehensive health support and maintains a high standard of care for its users.
